You helped build our future
While teaching new things
Helped us soar like an eagle
Through the skies on its wings

You molded our lives
With thoughts and with songs
Always there for us
When things seemed to go wrong

Through the good and the bad
Through the thick and the thin
You stuck up for us all
No matter what trouble we were in

Thanks for helping and caring Thanks for getting us through We'll remember forever
Courtland's teachers.....

THANK YOU!

The Top Cat's Message

Another year has passed us by, but our memories of life together at Courtland will linger on! Our student and staff "Cougars" have left positive and happy footprints on the roads of learning that we have walked together. We accepted our problems as challenges to be faced as caring teammates. In most cases, successes flourished. In other situations, we had to accept our limitations and look to the future with a sense of faith that we have developed abilities to learn from our mistakes.

This yearbook captures many exciting features of 1988-89. Our choirs reached out into the community to perform for senior citizens at Victoria Place and Lanark Place. Operation One-to-One, the matching of a student with a senior citizen for regular visits, was begun. A tremendous variety of student activities enabled us to properly show the spirit of working together at play, while addressing the many curriculum demands of the Intermediate level.

A Job Shadowing Day and a Careers Fair highlighted our Careers' Education Week. Our Writers' Workshop approach to English resulted in many creative works by our students. Our own Mr. Ray, vice-principal of Courtland for the past six years, announced his retirement after thirty-two years of valuable service to several school committees. He will be missed by our school system!

Graduates - you will also be missed, although it is time for you to move along to the next phase in your school life. Know what values will pave a path for you. Recognize - ability without effort is wasted. Ensure that the person looking back at you from a mirror has the capacity to make our world a better place. May all of your footprints be discovered on that road to success!

R. Ray

A Special Cougar

Our warmest congratulations to Mr. Ray who is retiring after serving as Courtland's vice-principal for 6 years.

Mr. Ray began his teaching career in 1957 at Hespeler Public School and over the next 14 years he taught at Prueter, Wilson, Smithson, Howard Robertson and Margaret Avenue schools. He became a vice-principal in 1971 at Sunnyside Senior Public School and has been a vice-principal at Cedarbrae and William G. Davis as well as Courtland.

Everyone sees Mr. Ray as a caring, supportive and thoughtful person who is always ready to listen and who is always fair. His cheerfulness, warmth and open approach have been most welcome.

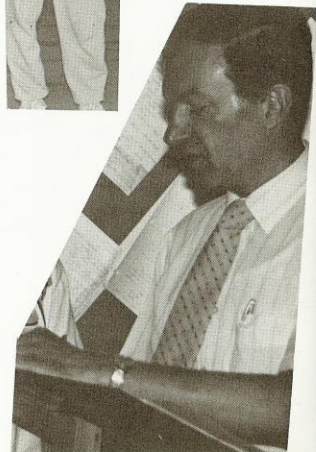

With his wife Nancy, he intends to pursue his interests in the areas of travel, photography and cars.

Congratulations Mr. Ray. We wish you well!

As the chilly dry wind swept across the air
The cold feeling of winter arrived
Slowly but gently the soft white snowflake
Fell down from the sky
One by one each covered Almost everything that it landed on.
Each snowflake comes
In many beautiful different shapes and sizes
Glittering and dazzling
As they sparkle on the ground
What a gorgeous and breathtaking view!

No, little brown bird, go away,
I have no time to dream today.
I must do certain lines, you see;
I know not why, but it must be.

Hush, little bird, and do not sing;
I have no time to play with spring.

Brandy Braun
Form 73

All of us, every day
Prancing around as if we own the place,
Are walking on ice.

All of us, every day
Not bothering to look at what's happening to our home,
Are playing with fire.

All of us, every day
Living our lives like there's no tomorrow,
Are kidding ourselves.

All of us, every day
Playing Russian Roulette with our future,
Should be slapped.

All of us, every day
Using our home like a journalist uses ink,
Are on our way to destruction.

All of us every day
Are cat-and-mousing our way to Doomsville
But we don't have nine lives.

All of us, some day
Will be going to a better life above,
If we're lucky.

I have a secret place that no one seems to know of,
When I go there,
The tears keep falling down my face because there is no love in that place of mine;
The animals are dying,
and no one seems to care
and no one goes to see them and it really isn't fair.
I just wish someone would find this place
so the animals wouldn't die but for now I'll always go to see them and try to save their lives.

The wind blowing through your hair
Into thin air,
Whistling high and low,
Through the trees and the snow,
Cold sound of day,
Screams may be gay.

Hope is the colour yellow
Hope tastes like freshly cut apples
Hope smells like cinnamon
Hope sounds like a bird chirping
Hope feels like a new beginning

Rebecca Sullivan

Our home is set far upon a hill
Overlooking the sea-
And down there on the seashore
Is a heaven just for me!

In the forests of spruce and fir
Is where I like to roam-
And play with the birds and animals
In this my woodland home.

The babbling little brook
That is filled with silver trout-Flows freely through the pasture
Where the cows are always out.

Our home is just a simple one Set far upon that hill-
But it's home to me and I love it And I always will!

As I watch the setting sun
Sink gently in the west-
I have the feeling God is near
And the world is at its best.

Slowly light seeps through my window. I walk outside and look out at the lake. The light is shining on the water so much that it hurts my eyes. But I don't look away afraid that I might miss a moment of splendor. No, instead I stare at the flaming orange ball as it rises slowly into the air. Another day has begun.

The stars glow brightly
The midnight sky is dark
The land is asleep An owl's call echos in the mountains
The night sky is lonely

Frank Gubitz

I lay in my bed
Dreams of peace and beauty pass
My head's full of thoughts
Closing my eyes I wonder What tomorrow's joy will bring

Kim Sayles

Trot to the hills and look way up to the sky,
with the glory of love.
Stand there quietly and calmly as the breeze passes you by.
Tilt your head to the colourful flowers without a yawn and think, then trot back to the village.
Lay your head down on the hay and calmly fade away.

Michelle Dimmock

I was happy when I got my first friend
And also my first girlfriend
When I was in grade two and grade four I liked school then.
My first dog made me joyful
I had something to play with.

Mike Haun

As they prance around and around Their long bushy mane sways gently in the cool breeze.

Their hoofs make a clicky clack noise
Which makes the dust fly like a bird in the sky.

Their tails are long, silent and beautiful
As they gallop through the prairies.
Their tails sway like Flander's Fields.

Their eyes sparkle in night or in light
They have a shine that glistens like a chime.

Now don't you agree horses are like the wind?

Sophie Latulippe

The arena is quiet,
With the ice unskated.
The janitor is cleaning the stands To get ready for the fans, who will run in and grab their seats.
You come on the ice.
The fans are on their feet.
You shoot,
You score!
The fans cheer some more!
Popcorn flies all over the place.
A smile warms your face
The game is over.
You have won.
Everyone clears out.
The arena is quiet

Travis MacDonald
Form 75

Blossoms in the mist, are as delicate as a kiss.
The elegant smell of a rose,
is as refined as it grows.

For the public who are sluggish, and for people not that bright, they should get a glimpse of a daisy shining brightly in the night.

As yellow as the moon so high and bright
It gives me great pleasure to enjoy the light.

The sweet colour of a cherry is as bright as the sun.
In the morning when it rises we begin our fun.
