

Sycamore

- camouflage pattern of bark, with darker flakes that fall off revealing grey, green and tan inner bark

White Birch

- smooth white bark that peels off in papery strips
- don't peel the bark off!

Yellow Birch

- golden yellowish bark that peels away in thin rolls
- Don't peel the bark off!

Black Cherry

- dark grey bark that has scales that lift up at edges
- sometimes scales described as “burnt Cornflakes”

American Beech

- smooth grey bark
- tree trunk sometimes described as looking like an elephant's leg

