

In addition to using Google as a Search Engine, look over the following sites and databases to find specific details about the time periods that you are looking at. Additionally, these sites have good images (photos, pictures, charts, etc) that you can include in your report.

 The CANADIAN Business Hall of Fame	A good sit that provides summaries of businesses and companies as well as biographies on founders. LINK
	A good site that gives profiles of athletes as well as statistics on competitions. LINK
 CANADIAN MUSEUM OF CIVILIZATION MUSÉE CANADIEN DES CIVILISATIONS	This site provides all sorts of descriptions about various cultures within Canada, war, immigration, health care and aboriginal history, as well as providing a ton of visuals. LINK
	This site showcases articles, video and other links to events of the Cold War. It is the People’s History homepage. LINK
	This site presents information on technology within Canada. There are some good images and short descriptions to use. LINK
	This site provides good images and links to significant Canadian events by decade. LINK
Canada: A Country By Consent 	Use the Year Menu to find excellent summaries, pictures and video on people and events that have shaped our nation. LINK
CBC Digital Archives 	This easy-to-navigate site allows you to search by topic to see articles, images and news footage. LINK
Learn Law website 	This site provides basic info on significant laws in our history. LINK

Finally, go to the Virtual Library to use the Canadian Encyclopedia, as well as other databases such as Explora.