Everybody’s Talking

Iceland: More than 60% of the Icelandic population live in the capital city, Reykjavik. Although very small, Reykjavik is the most northern capital city in the world. This colourful and quirky city is packed with numerous restaurants, cafes, bars and museums and is extremely walkable, making it a perfect destination to explore by foot.

Emergency Phone Numbers: You may wonder how emergency phone numbers came about. The 911 emergency service wasn’t standardized in North American until the 1980s. We aren’t the only country that has this though. Here are a few that are interesting:

Australia: 000 (112 on cell phone)

France: 112

India: 102

Ireland 112

Mexico: 065

Did You Know...

Phone Numbers: There are almost 8 million possible seven digit phone numbers per area code. Each area code has 792 possible prefixes in Texas. Each of these area codes has 10, 000 possible phone numbers attached to it. Not all of the possible numbers are put into us.

Bubblegum Flavoured Broccoli: McDonald’s once created bubblegum flavoured broccoli. This flavoured broccoli – which was developed in 2014 – was a complete failure.

Clear Blood: Lobsters have clear blood. Most of us are familiar with the bright colour of lobsters, but their blood is rather intriguing. It is initially clear and turns blue when it hits oxygen.

On the Lighter Side

Question: Did you hear about the mathematician who’s afraid of negative numbers?

Answer: He’ll stop at nothing to avoid them.

Question: What do you call a man with a rabbit on his head?

Answer: Warren

I asked my dog what’s two minus two. He said nothing.
