Music Therapy

Firefly Therapy Services offers music therapy programming that is tailor-made to each individual's strengths, challenges, and treatment objectives.

Speech, Motor, Behavioural, Emotional and Psychological goals can be addressed through a variety of music therapy treatment interventions. Interventions such as song writing, lyric analysis, movement to music, instrumental and vocal improvisation, guided imagery, and activity-based programming are used most often to provide positive clinical outcomes.

Individual Music Therapy

Much like traditional therapies, Firefly's individual music therapy services progress through an assessment > treatment > discharge process. An assessment determines skills & challenge areas, as well as treatment expectations and directives to help meet stated treatment goals.

Group Music Therapy

Sing & Speak

A social communication group designed for children with social, speech, and/or language delays. This theme-based program uses rhythm, instrument playing, and singing to give children the opportunity to practice skills like turn taking, requesting, and participation in a structured group setting. The program is co-run by a Speech-Language Pathologist and a Music Therapist.
