

Don't Be a Bully

Don't be a bully, it's just not fair!
They say it's a game, but the game's not there.
Don't be a bystander, it has no meaning,
Because after a while bullies will hurt their feelings.
They pull your hair,
They twist you in a knot!
But your friends are there
When a teacher is not!
"Don't you dare tell the teacher or else I'll punch you in the face!"
Threats won't help you win the race.
So, think about what you might say,
Because it will hurt them every day.
Just remember,
We stand together
You're not alone, even in the darkest dark
Just listen to the chirp of a meadowlark
And if you ever feel alone,
Other's sorrow will be shown.
They tell you you're not worth a penny,
But they don't realize, you're one in many!

Untitled

They're all the same
They all think it's a game
Picking and picking 'till I burst
It feels the worst
Just because I like a shirt
They make me feel like dirt
Every time I fall or sneeze
They're always there to tease
I wonder why, WHY
They always try to make me cry
It feels like a lock
When I hear them talk
Stuck inside a cage
It really makes me rage
I try to tell my mom or dad
But the bully says if I do, he'll be mad
He says that he'll make it worse
He says that it will be more than a curse
They pick on me 'cause I'm alone
It hurts all the way down to the bone
They're known as the cool guys
Because of their lies and lies
But I ask myself are they really cool
If they're bullies at school?
